Allies Retake Capitol Hill And Beat Reds Counter Blows

By ROBERT B. TUCKMAN
SEOUL, Korea (AP)—Battle-hardened South Korean infantrymen recaptured Capitol Hill in a wild night bayonet charge and then threw back counterattacking Chinese at daybreak today.

A U. S. Eighth Army staff officer said "the ROKs (Republic of Korea troops) are on that hill to stay."

In five days of vicious close-in fighting for the Central Front hill, troops of the crack Capitol Division have killed or wounded at least 2,300 Chinese, the Eighth Army estimated. That is nearly the equivalent of a Red regiment.

Wreck 100 Trucks
The U. S. Fifth Air Force said fighter-bomber pilots last night knocked out 100 Communist supply trucks, the highest score since early June.

Fifth air Force pilots helped soften Chinese defenses before the Koreans began their victorious fight up the slopes of Capitol Hill. The Air Force said 70 individual flights were made over the hill by fighter bombers, raking the Chinese with machine gun fire, bombs and flaming jelled gasoline.

U. N. artillery then took over and pounded the hill crest and Red approach routes with a murderous barrage.

There were only sporadic small arms fights elsewhere on the front, the Eighth Army said.

R. C. DIRECTORS PLAN DONOR DAY, ANNUAL MEETING

Plans for the next Blood Donor Day here on September 26 and for the annual meeting of the chapter Tuesday, October 28, at the YWCA building were announced at the September meeting of the board of directors of the Adams County Chapter of the Red Cross Tuesday evening at chapter headquarters on Baltimore St.

Reports were presented also on chapter services performed during the summer months. Chairman George L. Haenn presided at the meeting.

Preliminary plans for the annual meeting were announced by Mrs. Albert Bachman, chairman of the committee on arrangements.

Need Loaned Equipment
The Blood Donor Service Committee told of efforts being made to enroll more donors for the Donor Day this month when 150 pints of blood will be sought.

There was a discussion of means of having borrowed Red Cross equipment such as walkers, crutches, wheel chairs and hospital beds returned promptly to meet needs of the constant waiting list for such equipment.

Mrs. Maxwell Bucklew, executive secretary, said the chapter now has 22 pairs of crutches on loan and only two pairs available for lending, nine walkers on loan and none on hand, four beds on loan and none available for the waiting list. Two wheel chairs were returned after a recent appeal by the Red Cross.

Mrs. LeRoy H. Winebrenner reported on the operation of a first aid station at the South Mountain Fair by the Red Cross and it was decided to set up two first aid stations here on October 18, the day of the re-enactment of Lincoln's visit.

Need Motor Corps Drivers
Mrs. Bucklew gave a final report on the water safety program conducted last summer.

3 Escape From Lewisburg Prison; One Man Stabbed

LEWISBURG, Pa. (AP)—Three prisoners escaped Lewisburg Federal Penitentiary early today and stabbed a man in making a getaway.

Warden George W. Humphrey said the trio used a metal sectional ladder to scale the prison wall as fog enveloped the area around the prison.

He identified them as Joseph Nolan, 26; Ballard Nolan, 58, a brother; and Elmer Smith, 41, all were serving long terms as bank robbers.

Police Chief Gordon Hufnagle of Lewisburg said Mickey DeWine, Bucknell University employee, was stabbed in both the right and left sides in a scuffle with the prisoners who were seeking directions to get out of town. The wounds were not serious.

The prisoners, upon scaling the wall, broke into the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul F. Heitman, Lewisburg R. 3, a short distance from the penitentiary.

Mrs. Heitman and her daughter were locked upstairs while Heitman was forced to drive his automobile into town. The prisoners armed themselves with butcher knives at the Heitman home.

Hufnagle said Heitman told him the escapees intended to break into a Lewisburg sporting goods store in quest of guns. This plan was spoiled when Heitman began to shout to attract attention.

The trio then drove to near the Bucknell University campus where they spotted DeWine. They were last seen traveling on Rt. 15 south toward Selingsgrove.

M'CARTHY WINS BY LANDSLIDE IN WISCONSIN

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Jubilant Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy was the landslide winner today of Wisconsin's GOP senatorial nomination. He called his victory an endorsement by the people of "my campaign to rid the government of subversive forces that would destroy it."

He promised his "all-out support" to Republican presidential nominee Dwight D. Eisenhower and pledged to the voters he would continue his Communist-in-government charges, which some people regard as the act of a patriot and others see as smear tactics.

But there was no trace between McCarthy and Len Schmitt — the man he defeated in yesterday's primary election for the senatorial nomination.

Schmitt alleged Hoax
Schmitt charged McCarthy had won through "an amazing and fraudulent hoax" perpetrated on the voters, and he added:

"The result of this election is an appalling thing. . . . When the full truth dawns, many people will recall their support of Joseph R. McCarthy in this election with shame."

The 42-year-old senator, seeking his second term, brushed this attack aside by saying:

"The people of Wisconsin have spoken for me. They have given full endorsement to my campaign to rid the government of subversive forces that would destroy it."

Democrat Uncertain

With 2,635 precincts out of 3,224 reported, the count was:
McCarthy 404,758
Schmitt 156,635

Four other GOP senatorial candidates ran far behind.

lationship between the grower and the canner has benefited both on a continuing basis.

Paid Excess Prices
In years of surplus tomato crops, canners frequently have paid in excess of prevailing market prices to honor their grower contracts signed months previously. Mr. York pointed out. In addition, he said that canners in partnership with growers furnish many services which outside growers are in no position to offer.

Among these, he said, are:
A guaranteed market and price for tomatoes, agreed upon well in advance of the season; provision of scientifically developed plants, furnished at cost or slightly below cost; services of expert growers service men who advise the farmer on planting, spraying and harvesting.

Arrangements are made by the canner for the spraying of the crop at times most beneficial to its development. Such spraying is supervised by the canner at no additional cost to the grower, who pays only for the spray and the services of the men doing the job.

Seek Maximum Yield
Growers are advised by the canner as to the best times for harvesting, in order to obtain a maximum and profitable yield.

Canners arrange for the time of delivery of the crop to the factory or receiving station in order to assure the farmer of little or no delay. Through the contract crops program, growers frequently are able to obtain credit from the time of planting through the harvest season.

State and Federal graders are used by most canners and growers to assure fair dealing in grading tomatoes at the time of delivery. These impartial judges grade the crop as No. 1, No. 2, culls, etc.

YANKEES AND DODGERS SLIP AS RUNNERS-UP TRIM MARGINS

By JOE REICHER
AP Sports Writer

The weary New York Yankees and Brooklyn Dodgers, stumbling along the rock road to pennantville, are finding their paths blocked by revenge-minded former teammates.

The Yankees' lead over Cleveland was a skimpy one game today following last night's 5-4 loss to the Browns in St. Louis and the Indians' 6-1 triumph over Bobby Shantz and the Philadelphia Athletics.

Brooklyn's once seemingly safe 10½ game bulge over New York dwindled to four as a result of yesterday's 7-1 loss to the Chicago Cubs, several outs after the Giants had thrashed the Pittsburgh Pirates, 11-6.

"Longshot" Cards Climb
Brooklyn's woes were further increased by the rapid climb of St. Louis' "longshot" Cardinals, who pushed back into the pennant picture with a 7-5 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies that left them 6½ lengths off the pace.

Two former Yankees—Dick Kryhoski and Clint Courtney—teamed up last night to bring victory to the Browns. Kryhoski, pinch hitting for winning pitcher Dick Littlefield, doubled off Ray Scarborough to open the last of the ninth. An infield hit and an intentional pass sandwiched around an out, loaded the bases.

Scarborough's third pitch to Courtney hit the catcher to force home Ray Coleman, running for Kryhoski, with the winning run. It was four-time loser Littlefield's first win of the season.

26th For Wynn
At Ebbets Field, former Dodgers Dee Fondy and Toby Atwell proved the big hatchmen as knuckleballer Warren Hacker stifled the Brooklyn smashes with seven safes. Fondy smashed a run-scoring triple and Atwell chipped in with a single that drove in one of the tallies in Chicago's big five-run, fourth-inning rally against loser Ray Moore and Joe Landrum.

Early Wynn reached his 20-victory goal for the second straight season as he pitched the Indians to their sixth straight triumph. Held scoreless through five innings by Shantz, the Indians rallied for two runs in the sixth and added six more in the eighth to hand the little lefthander his seventh setback.

A dozen Giant hits, including homers by Monte Irvin, Don Mueller and Alvin Dark, helped rookie Bill Connelly rack up his fifth straight success since joining the club in mid-August. Five Pittsburgh errors helped considerably, presenting the Giants with six unearned runs.

2,000th For Stan
Solly Hemus' bases-loaded single and Red Schoendienst's two-run double featured a five-run, ninth-inning uprising that gave the Cardinals their uphill triumph over the Phillies. Stan Musial got one hit—his 2,000th major league hit for St. Louis.

Chicago's White Sox advanced to third place in the American League, taking a pair of 3-2 decisions from Washington. Pitcher Saul Rogovin batted in the first two runs and scored the winning run on an 12th-inning single by Nellie Fox in the opener. Pinch-hitter Sam Mele homered in the last of the ninth to give Harry Dorch the second game win over rookie Mike Fornieles.

Successive homers by Cliff Mapes and Joe Ginsberg in the last half of the 11th gave Detroit a 4-3 victory over Boston, dropping the Red Sox into fourth place.

Cincinnati and the Braves swapped shutouts in their two-night twin bill in Boston. The Reds Harry Perkowski bested Max Surkont, 2-0, after the Braves' Warren Spahn had taken a 1-0 hurling duel from rookie Joe Nuxhall.

Today's Talk

ORDERLY LIVING
We are not free just because we may be living in a country that is free. We may be so disorderly in our mind and in what we do from day to day, that we become more confused and less free than those held under bondage.

Amiel, the famous Swiss scholar and writer, once said: "It is the lack of order which makes us slaves; the confusion of today discounts the freedom of tomorrow." In order there are strength, economy, and freedom of mind. The orderly life is always a successful and useful one. And a happy one, too.

That one who keeps his appointments exactly on time, who gives his word that he will meet an obligation as arranged, who keeps his desk clean, and knows just where to find important data, who keeps his car clean and in order as well as religiously observing all the rules of the road, and who never disappoints a friend, that one lives an orderly and commendable life!

We are sadly witnessing a period of history where there are confusion, disorder, and fear in the world. It is far from being an orderly time. We can only hope and pray that out of all this travail and disorder a better day is in the offing. Meanwhile it becomes the responsibility of us all to increase our courage, to put our trust in the Great Creator, whose stars in the heavens never vary their course but continue orderly to shine from their space in the sky.

Nature has its set laws — few at that — and they function orderly from time to time, silently, as an object lesson to us all. If catastrophe overtakes the inhabitants of nature, they bear it with courage and no complaint. Theirs is an orderly life. Wars may come and go, yet they sing, nest, rear their young, and live out their time in order.

The orderly life is the unworried life, one of peace and faith, with simple trust in the Heavenly Father, of whom it is recorded that He doesn't even miss the sparrow's fall.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Human Values." Protected, 1952, by The George Matthew Adams Service

THE PUTTER
The putter is the final club for golfing pro and golfing dabbler. Its shaft is not designed for length;

To use it doesn't call for strength.
The putter's simple purpose, sole: To get the ball into the hole.

Yet putting strokes will number more

Than those of woods and irons four.

Long drives to golfers common are,

And iron shots will travel far.

Yet golfers know, lest care they take,

A three-foot putt is hard to make.

The saddest golfers often seen

Have taken four putts on a green.

Two shots and home! Ten feet to go.

And then a shameful six to show.

A stroke that seems so simple, but Few players ever learn to putt.

SAYS DEFENSE SPENDING IS LEVELLING OFF

WASHINGTON (AP) — A government economist says the golden tide of defense dollars is leveling off far ahead of schedule—and may wash some of the props from under business in the process.

Robert C. Turner, a new member of President Truman's three-man Council of Economic Advisers, gave this surprise appraisal on Monday as he took his oath of office.

In a brief speech, and later in an interview, Turner told of new government studies which he said show that defense spending and production already have virtually reached their peak.

At Crossroads Now
Earlier forecasts, by Truman and his mobilization chiefs, had indicated a steady, continued expansion until mid-1953. This projected expansion—as well as current spending—had been big stimulus to business.

Turner, 44-year-old business professor at Indiana University, pictured the nation as standing now at a crossroads where it must face an end to further substantial increases in defense spending—with far reaching effects on business and on the vast program by which the government attempts to guide the economy.

One offshoot of the new situation, Turner indicated, might be a further easing of direct controls on prices, wages and materials. Instead of asking the public to spend less, the government might encourage more private buying to try to keep business growing.

Would Reduce Budget
Another effect, if the outpouring of defense outlays levels off at present rates, would be a reduction in the government budget considerably under present estimates.

"We've had an expanding economy for two years—an expansion forced by the defense program," Turner told a reporter. "Now we can't count any longer on a forced expansion. We will have to do some hard thinking."

Government defense spending totaled more than four billion dollars in June and July and over three billion in August. Turner foresaw a high level plateau of monthly spending somewhere around the four billion figure.

BUS STRIKE 30 DAYS OLD

ERIE, Pa. (AP)—This city of about 140,000 population, third largest in Pennsylvania, still is without bus service today in a 30-day-old strike. But two developments indicate a break may come in the near future.

Erie Coach Co., whose 255 drivers and mechanics walked out Aug. 12, agreed yesterday to arbitrate a 20-cent hourly pay hike demand. The AFL Amalgamated Association of Street, Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employees called for arbitration last week after talks collapsed.

However, no resumption of negotiations has been scheduled. At Meadville, federal mediator Grover Stainbrook said he will try to bring the company and union together when he feels the time is right. He declined further comment.

FIND MOTHER'S BODY IN WATER

STROUDSBURG, Pa. (AP)—The Nowicki family's vacation ended in tragedy on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Nowicki and their two sons, Joseph, 28, and Leonard, 18, of Plains, were staying at a cottage at nearby Lake Toboyanna, a Pocono Mountain resort.

It was a perfect day for fishing. Leonard went down to the lake to catch some bass for dinner.

After trying his luck at several spots, he caught his line on a cumbersome object beneath the surface.

Reeling and tugging a couple of times, the horror-stricken youth suddenly discovered his hook was caught on the body of a woman—his mother.

Monroe County Coroner William A. Anderson said the woman apparently lost her footing while walking along the lake front and fell into 10 feet of water, where she drowned.

Young Mother Of 2 Falls To Death

READING, Pa. (AP)—Mrs. Susanna Jane Dracha, 29, Miss Reading Fair of 1948, fell to her death on Monday from the attic of her home, police said.

Her mother, Mrs. Charles R. Stephens, said the attractive brunette, mother of two girls, had been ill for several years but refused medical attention.

Cause of death was withheld by Coroner Paul B. Good pending an investigation.

Mrs. Dracha was divorced from her husband, Alexander Dracha, several years ago.

LAMAR CAUDLE CALLED BEFORE PUBLIC HEARING

WASHINGTON (AP)—House tax fraud investigators have booked T. Lamar Caudle for a return engagement—this time in public—after hearing him for six straight days behind closed doors.

Rep. Chelf (D-Ky), chairman of a judiciary subcommittee investigating the Justice Department, said on Monday Caudle, former assistant attorney general, will testify publicly Sept. 18.

Former Atty. Gen. J. Howard McGrath will be questioned Sept. 17.

Caudle was fired from his post by President Truman last November because of what the White House called outside activities incompatible with his official duties.

Yesterday Caudle told House probers that government officials tried to influence his decisions in tax fraud cases while he was head of the Justice Department's tax division.

Some Solons Involved

No names were disclosed, but some members of Congress were said to be involved. Also mentioned was White House pressure, although congressmen on the committee disagreed on what Caudle said about this.

Chelf said Caudle did not testify that Truman ever exerted pressure or that any White House staffers were implicated. Rep. Keating (R-NY) said "there is evidence of pressure having been brought by those in the White House on Caudle," although he agreed that Caudle testified Truman never called him about a case directly.

Chelf said he and Keating apparently interpreted Caudle's testimony differently, and that he would look the record over again to see if he was wrong.

Chelf said Caudle's testimony indicated that pressure put on him consisted of telephone calls and repeated visits by government officials.

Building Ideas For Home Owners

Rooms Eight
Bedrooms Four Bathrooms Two
Cubage 20,000
Dimensions 30' x 29'

Containing well planned and spacious rooms, the house can be built in easy stages. Because complete living quarters are included on the first floor, it wouldn't be necessary to finish the second story until it is needed.

Two bedrooms and a bath, a large living room with a fireplace, the kitchen, a dining room with built-in china cabinets, and the sun room make up the rooms on the first floor. The second floor consists of two bedrooms, each with two closets and built-in storage drawers. Another bath and a large storage area complete the picture.

A 60' lot is required for "The Gardner" which measures 30' x 29'. Its cubic footage is 20,000 feet.

Dignified Appearance
The small cap over the front door gives an appearance of dignified poise to the house, while the long lines of the shutters at each window contrast nicely with the horizontal lines of the clapboarded sidewalls. Actually the roof of the sun porch at the front is a continuation of the main roof, but the break halfway up provides a separate roof for the room which projects beyond the dining room at the rear right.

Immediately beyond the small reception hall is the 18' x 13'4" living room—one of the most attractive rooms in house. Two windows in the front wall provide adequate ventilation, and plenty of light which is supplemented by the light from the sun room, visible at the right through an open archway.

In the back wall, flanked by doors, is the large fireplace. The door on the right leads to the dining room; the one on the left to the kitchen. The door to the hall, separating the sleeping quarters from the rest of the house, is located in the left wall near the open stairs that lead to the second floor. A window at the top of the stairway lights this area.

There are eight windows in the 13'4" x 8' sunroom which actually is an extension of the living room. Two doors are located in the back wall of the room, with one leading into the garden and the other opening into the dining room.

Measuring 10'6" x 9', the dining room has a large window at the back overlooking the garden. A side window provides light and cross ventilation.

A third swinging door on the left inside wall opens into the kitchen. On the left is a broom closet space with the stove just beyond next to the door to the living room.

Modern Kitchen
To the right of the dining room door is the L-shaped counter space with overhead and underneath cupboard space. The sink is located beneath the window at the back. Additional counter and cupboard space is provided in the corner between the refrigerator and living room between the two bedrooms.

The front bedroom is 11'4" x 11'6" and also contains a closet in the back wall. The two windows provide the room with plenty of light and ventilation.

If one of these bedrooms is no longer needed after the second floor has been completed, it will be an easy matter to convert the front bedroom into a den or library.

A dormer across the back of the house makes possible full windows and headroom on the second story. An L-shaped hall connects the two second floor bedrooms. The smaller room, 11'6" x 11'5", is located at the left of the stairs.

At the front of the house the hall leads into the master bedroom which is 16' x 11'6" in dimensions. A linen closet is conveniently located at the end of the hallway.

Each of the bedrooms has two closets, and three windows—two in the back wall and one in the side wall.

The master bedroom contains two sets of built-in drawers and a small closet, next to the chimney. There is a larger closet in the side wall.

In the wall opposite the door to the smaller bedroom is a large closet; another one is placed in the front inside wall over the stair wall.

Built-in drawers and the door to the storage space are located in the front wall of this room. During the warmer weather you can leave the window and door of the storage space open to provide additional ventilation for the bedroom.

Today radio entertains, informs and sells people wherever they go.

In fact, the average American spends more time with radio than with magazines, TV, and newspapers combined.

People listen to radios in cars, kitchens, yachts, bedrooms, living rooms, trains, canoes, bars, terraces, hotels, restaurants, beaches, deserts, mountain-tops, airplanes.

Right now there are 105,300,000 radio sets in the country. Virtually every home is a radio home—and over half of them have two or more sets.

In automobiles alone, there are 27,424,500 radios. At any given moment, over one-third of the radio-equipped cars on the road have their sets in use.

And last year Americans bought 12,775,000 new radio sets!

Radio reaches its vast audience at far lower cost than any other medium—whether by nationwide networks or local stations.

No doubt about it:

The smartest buys in all advertising are being made in radio. And they're being made right now.

EX-CONVICTS SENTENCED

SCRANTON, Pa., (AP)—Two ex-convicts who shot and beat a taxi-cab driver during an attempted holdup at nearby Carbondale last Aug. 21, were sentenced to prison yesterday after pleading guilty before Judge T. Linus Hoban.

James Finnegan, 42, South Fallsburg, N. Y., and Gerald Doughty, 28, Columbus, O., both were sentenced to three to ten years for attempted armed robbery and assault with intent to kill.

WILDCAT COAL STRIKE ENDS

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Two more Southwestern Pennsylvania coal mines opened for production today, signaling the virtual end of a sporadic wildcat strike which at one time closed 17 pits and idled 10,000 United Mine Workers.

About 4,000 diggers at Vesta Mines 4 and 5 of Jones and Laughlin Steel Corp. near California in Washington County voted yesterday to return to work. Still on strike are about 450 miners at J. and L.'s Shannopin Mine.

Workers at the three steel company pits failed to report Sept. 2 after the end of the 10 day-memorial holiday in a dispute over the firing nearly two months ago of a miner at the Shannopin operation. The walkout spread early this week to four counties. UMW president John L. Lewis ordered the miners back to work. He is now negotiating a new contract with a large part of the industry.

David Stary has returned to his home in York Springs after several months in New York and elsewhere. He recently had published in a current magazine an article on Mrs. McSweeney, nee Susan Hummer, a sister of the late Mrs. H. H. Hershey. Mrs. McSweeney, a native of Adams County, formerly visited in York Springs. She was one of the central figures in the Lincoln County War in New Mexico, and has featured in the moving pictures dealing with the life of Billy the Kid, who was an employee of her husband.

ACTIVITIES OF HAZERS BANNED

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Five students at nearby Brentwood High School today are banned from taking part in extra-curricular activities on charges they whipped three other boys with belts in a hazing session.

The action was taken by Principal Clark Metcalfe after parents of the three victims declined to bring charges at a school board meeting. Said Metcalfe,

"The refusal of the parents prevents me from expelling those who participated."

The hazers, none of whom was identified, no longer can take part in athletics or other school activities outside of regular classroom work.

An outbreak of hazing at Brentwood High School last May resulted in one boy being committed to the Pennsylvania Training School at Morgantown. Two more withdrew from school and seven were placed under jurisdiction of Juvenile Court.

STEVENSON TO STAND FIRM ON FOREIGN POLICY OF WHITE HOUSE

By REILMAN MORIN

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Gov. Adlai Stevenson stood solidly today on the foreign policy of the Truman administration and, with a warning of peril, outlined a program for action in Asia.

"America is threatened as never before," he said.

The way to avert it, he told a nationwide television and radio audience from San Francisco, is to give material aid to the new nations of Asia, to recognize their desire for independence, and to show them that the United States is not pursuing a policy of domination.

War Not Inevitable

Speaking with unusual seriousness, the Democratic candidate for the presidency made these points last night:

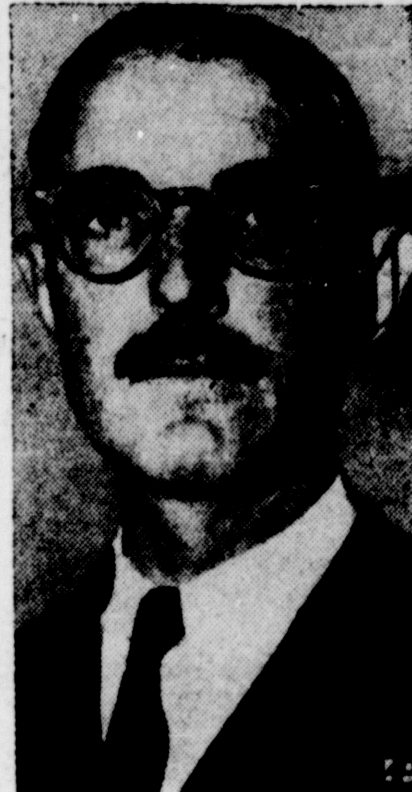

1. "I do not think war is an inevitable part of this contest between freedom and tyranny."

2. "With 85 per cent of our budget allotted to defense, it is the Soviet Union which now fixes the level of our defense expenditures and thus our tax rates."

3. Republican nominee Dwight D. Eisenhower's "10-point program" does not contribute much to our foreign policy discussion."

Korean Turning Point

4. "I believe we may in time look back at Korea as a major turning point in history—a turning point which led not to another war, but to the first historic demonstration that an effective system of collective security is possible."

NAMED TO KOREA—Ellis O. Briggs, of Watertown, Mass., envoy to Czechoslovakia, has been appointed Ambassador to Korea by President Truman, succeeding John J. Muccio.

His face was solemn, almost grimly serious. He put more emphasis into the strategic areas of his text. And he did not, as usual, taper off with ad-libbed remarks. He just stopped.

"Echoes" Cited

He began by ripping into Eisenhower's speech on foreign policy, delivered last week in Philadelphia. He said seven of the general's 10 points were echoes of the program the Democrats have been following. The other three, he said—and his voice was icy with sarcasm—were simply "throw the rascals out."

Actually, there were points of similarity in the statements of both candidates.

Both said peril confronts the United States. Both said the United States has not adopted an imperialistic course of action.

Differ On Korea

But whereas Eisenhower called Korea a case of errors in judgment, Stevenson strongly defended the actions of the administration. He said:

"As an American, I am proud that we had the courage to resist that ruthless, cynical aggression; and I am equally proud that we had the fortitude to refuse to risk extension of that war despite Communist provocations and reckless Republican criticism."

As a part of his defense of the administration's foreign policy, Stevenson praised the results of the Marshall Plan and the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Starts Whistle Tour

Stevenson was applauded heavily at nine points. He squelched three or four other beginnings of applause by continuing to talk.

Stevenson boarded a train today—for the first time since he left Springfield, Ill., Friday—and started "whistle stopping" the 400 miles to Los Angeles. The governor has been traveling by air.

He will make another major speech in Los Angeles tomorrow night.

He plans to go then to Phoenix, Ariz., and Albuquerque, N. M.

EXHAUSTED TAR TELLS HOW SHIP BATTLED AT SEA

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—The story of an exhausted merchant mariner today led the Coast Guard to abandon almost all hope for the lives of six seamen cast adrift in the stormy Atlantic when the tanker Foundation Star wrecked three days ago off Charleston, S. C.

Pedro Machado, a quartermaster-seaman on the ill-fated ship, poured out details of his ordeal in Spanish Monday night after he was landed at nearby Little Creek amphibious base by the Navy ship which rescued him, the transport Hollis.

The Hollis also put ashore another survivor from the Foundation Star's crew of 30, Gusto Matorosa of Greece, a fireman and the bodies of two seamen who died before rescue came 44 hours following the wreck. The Norwegian freighter Emu returned to New York with 19 other survivors.

Machado, surprisingly chipper, told newsmen he was on the bridge of the Foundation Star when the waves which had been rolling over her finally broke her in two off Charleston.

He said he dropped to the deck, searched frantically for a life jacket and when he found one, cut loose a life raft and went over the side into the churning water.

Ship Broken In Two
Machado said he rode the raft for a short while until he sighted a lifeboat. He said he climbed into the boat, which already was occupied by eight men.

Gives Million To Display 10 Beauties

BALTIMORE (AP)—Dignified Johns Hopkins University will build a monument to the memory of an old bachelor who gave the institution a million dollars, provided it display a mural of 10 Baltimore beauties.

The monument will be Shriver Hall, a building with two lecture halls, unusual television facilities and an expandable stage.

The university announced yesterday it hopes to have the structure finished by fall of next year.

Its namesake, Alfred Jenkins Shriver, died in 1939 after willing one million dollars for the hall. Among other things he stipulated that it contain a mural of 10 Baltimore women "at the height of their beauty."

As the hours passed, Machado said, one by one the seamen collapsed from hunger and starvation and fell from the boat. Finally, he said, only he, Matorosa and a dead man were left in the boat.

Two Are Rescued
That was the point—at 9:30 a.m. Monday morning—when the Hollis, enroute to Little Creek from Key West, Fla.—hove into sight.

The Hollis threw life rings and hauled Machado and Matorosa aboard. During the process the body in the boat was washed overboard.

Lt. James M. Moore, a underwater demolition expert, went into the water and found two bodies floating near the Hollis. Both were taken aboard.

Also found floating near the Hollis were several life jackets—empty.

EX-CON FAILS TO ROB BANK

BETHLEHEM, Pa. (AP)—Police have charged a 62-year-old former inmate of a federal penitentiary with trying to holdup a bank here with a toy pistol—the same thing that sent him to prison.

Det. Capt. Michael Fox said Leiland Ritter Robert walked into the Bethlehem National Bank here on Monday and asked to see the president or the cashier.

Ushered to the president's office he told Fred P. Becker, the president, he wanted to start a new account. Suddenly, he pulled the toy pistol from his pocket, Fox continued.

Becker disarmed the man, the police captain continued, and two cashiers held Robert while Becker called for police aid. Fox said Robert was serving a term at the Federal Penitentiary at Springfield, Mo., for an attempted holdup at Bluefield, W. Va., in 1938, using a toy pistol and was released last week. He arrived in Bethlehem last Saturday.

VETERAN RAILROADER DIES
GENEVA, N. Y. (AP)—Riley G. Brillhart, 72, of Ithaca, a Lehigh Valley conductor and an employee of the railroad since 1900, died on Monday of a heart attack while on duty on the Black Diamond Express as it arrived here from Buffalo on way to New York.

Of course, neither the newspaper he edits or the community in which it is published is real. What it boils down to is this: Lehman was drafted for editorship when this college community was chosen as the site for a documentary film titled "The Keystone Idea" and sponsored by the Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers Association.

CONGRESSMAN IS ILL
PUSAN, Korea (AP)—Rep. Overton Brooks (D-La), leader of a House group touring Korea, is being flown to Tokyo for treatment of an "unidentified fever." His condition was not believed serious.

ANOTHER RED SCHEME FAILS

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—A Soviet proposal to admit five Russian satellites and nine Western-backed countries to the United Nations in a package deal founded Monday night in the Security Council.

The United States, China, Greece, Brazil and The Netherlands opposed the deal, insisting each country must be considered on its merits. Only Russia and Pakistan voted in favor. Britain, Turkey, France and Chile abstained.

The five satellites included Albania, Bulgaria, Romania, Hungary and Outer Mongolia. The Western-sponsored nations were Ireland, Jordan, Portugal, Finland, Austria, Italy, Ceylon, Cnepal and Libya.

YOUNG EDITOR PLAYS LEAD IN PENNSY MOVIE

STATE COLLEGE, Pa. (AP)—Some newspaper editors struggle for years to attain their positions, but for 34-year-old Ross Lehman success came almost overnight.

Of course, neither the newspaper he edits or the community in which it is published is real. What it boils down to is this: Lehman was drafted for editorship when this college community was chosen as the site for a documentary film titled "The Keystone Idea" and sponsored by the Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers Association.

The 20-minute movie tells the story of an editor who decides that people of Keystone don't realize how much the newspaper means to the community. So he stops publishing and goes fishing with members of his staff.

Lost Leg In War

A native of Pottsville, Lehman formerly served as assistant city editor of the Lancaster New Era and since 1948 has been executive secretary of the Penn State Alumni Association here.

The father of three children, Lehman lost his right leg in World War II.

Speaking about his part in the movie, in which the townspeople here also participated, Ross said, "Truthfully, I'm an awful ham but what could be more fun than standing in front of a camera and doing what the director tells you—I don't even have any lines to memorize."

Speaking of the picture's plot, Lehman said "maybe a real editor wouldn't do such a thing, but it makes for a good movie because it's dramatic when you can show graphically how essential a newspaper is to its community."

23 HOMELESS IN $100,000 FIRE

KITTANNING, Pa. (AP)—A quick-spreading fire of undetermined origin roared through six dwellings in nearby Garrett's Run on Monday, leaving 23 persons homeless and causing damage estimated at nearly $100,000.

More than 150 firemen from 12 companies fought the blaze for three hours. Several suffered minor burns which were treated at the scene.

Occupants fled safely as flames swept a store-apartment building and five adjoining homes. Several houses were scorched by the intense heat. All electric and telephone service was disrupted in the little Western Pennsylvania town of about 500 as utility lines buckled and poles burned. Crews of workers swung into action immediately to repair the damage.
